A Movement Co-Op

The Origins of BlackLivesMatter

Hey, white folks in the streets, enraged by police brutality? Impassioned by #BlackLivesMatter. Your presence here is valued.

In this zine we invite you to consider how to show up in solidarity with the #BlackLivesMatter movement.

We encourage you to enter this discussion with an open mind.

---

How can I be accountable?

As we participate in the movement to confront systemic violence against Black bodies, some questions to think through:

- Where did the movement come from?
- How can we respect those legacies?
- What power dynamics might exist within the communities that we are working to support?
- Whose voices are amplified within protest spaces?
- Whose bodies are visible?
- Whose bodies are safe(r)?

---

How can I be accountable?

As we participate in the movement to confront systemic violence against Black bodies, some questions to think through:

- Where did the movement come from?
- How can we respect those legacies?
- What power dynamics might exist within the communities that we are working to support?
- Whose voices are amplified within protest spaces?
- Whose bodies are visible?
- Whose bodies are safe(r)?

---

How can I be accountable?

As we participate in the movement to confront systemic violence against Black bodies, some questions to think through:

- Where did the movement come from?
- How can we respect those legacies?
- What power dynamics might exist within the communities that we are working to support?
- Whose voices are amplified within protest spaces?
- Whose bodies are visible?
- Whose bodies are safe(r)?